📺 Meir Ben-Shitrit was, according to Israeli media, the main suspect in the ongoing Sde Teiman sodomy rape case. In spite of that, he was the first soldier to be released, after just two days of detainment.

Here's a video of him from June 2023, while in reserve duty in the West Bank:

"Why can't we go in with Negev machine guns? Why can't we go in with Mag machine guns? And why can't we go in with the holding force of a grenade launcher, to such a place full of terrorists? Two days ago, all these terrorists were standing there, 150-200 armed terrorists. Why don't we get 3-4 attack helicopters up in the sky and spray everyone?"

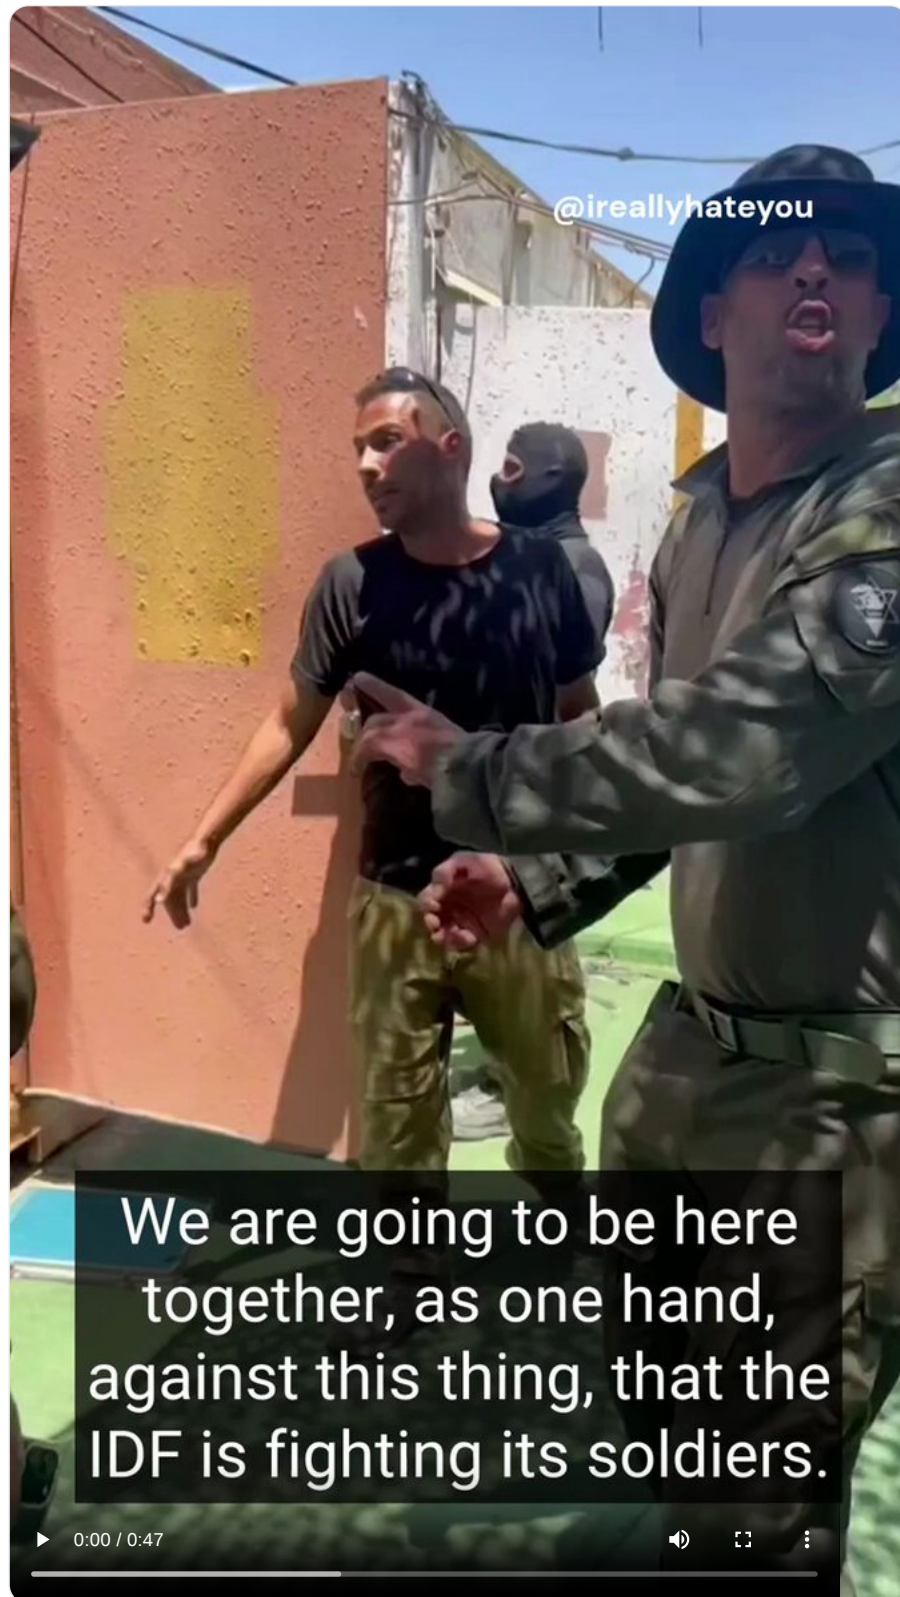

The video was posted on the Telegram channel of racist thug and right wing influencer Yoav Eliassi (HaTzel, "The Shadow") and went viral.

After the video was circulated widely, Ben Shitrit claimed that the army is threatening to remove him from service, yet the army assured the press that Ben Shitrit will not be dismissed.

Ben Shitrit lives in Kiryat Arba, settlement adjacent to Hebron, where Ben Gvir also lives. The two know each other and are probably friends.

In this video from Sde Teiman we see Ben Shitrit was the main agitator of the initial riots. I do wonder how he was released so fast...

I learnt the identity of Ben Shitrit already on the night of the riots, when his sister, Oriyan Ben Shitrit, gave interviews outside the Beit Lid army base, which was later broken into by the rioters (including armed soldiers).

Listen carefully to the shouts in the background.

Ben Shitrit also likes to harass visitors who come to educational tours in Hebron, organized by different leftist groups (e.g. @ShovrimShtika)

In this video for example, he can be seen disrupting a tour at the tomb of mass-murderer Baruch Goldstein, in 2017.

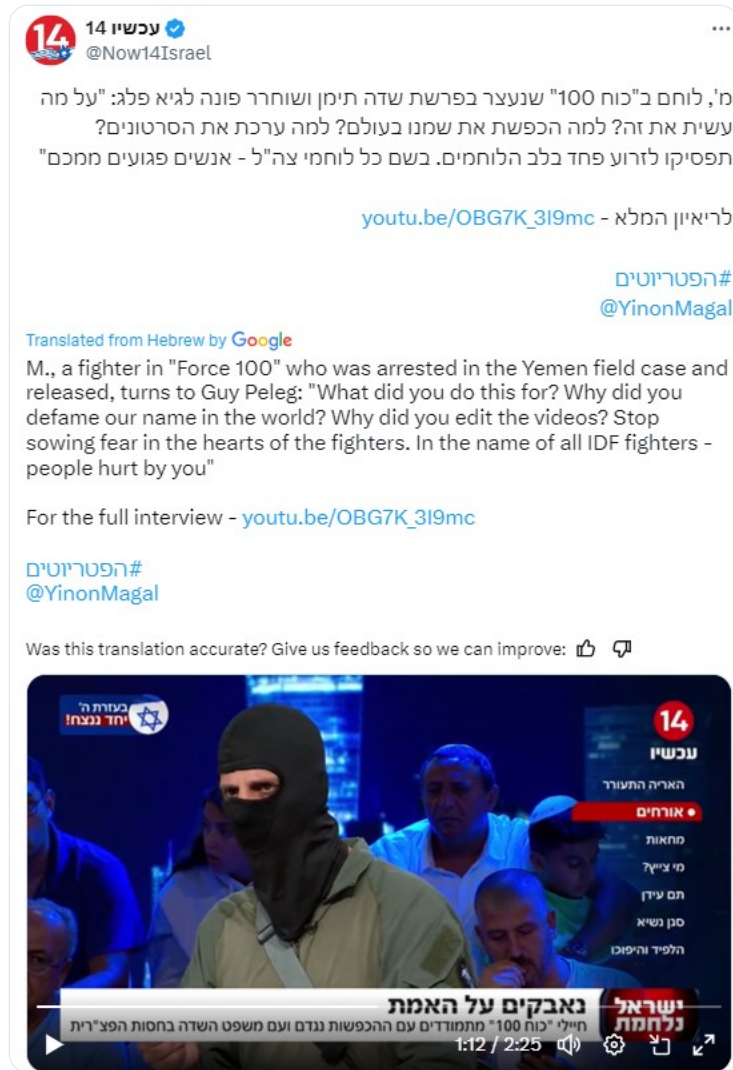

Video by Zohar Alon.

Tonight Ben Shitrit was hosted on Channel 14's talk show HaPatriotim.

He wore a mask and was identified as "M."

He condemned the reporter who released the rape footage, asked the public not to break into bases (!) and claimed that his unit always did everything according to law.

Ben Shitrit is a part of Kiryat Arba's armed response unit, and has been serving in the IDF for many years. I wonder what horrible shit he did over time when no cameras were around.

I also wonder if there wasn't coordination between him and his neighbor on the day of the riots.

Bibists and right wing activists started spreading news about Ben Shitrit being dismissed from service following his appearance on TV tonight. Possibly just a spin to fan the flames and incite against the military prosecutor, but we'll see.

An excerpt from Meir Ben Shitrit's masked interview last night on Channel 14's flagship show HaPatriotim. The full interview is 10 minutes of literally non-stop lies, no need to watch it all.
